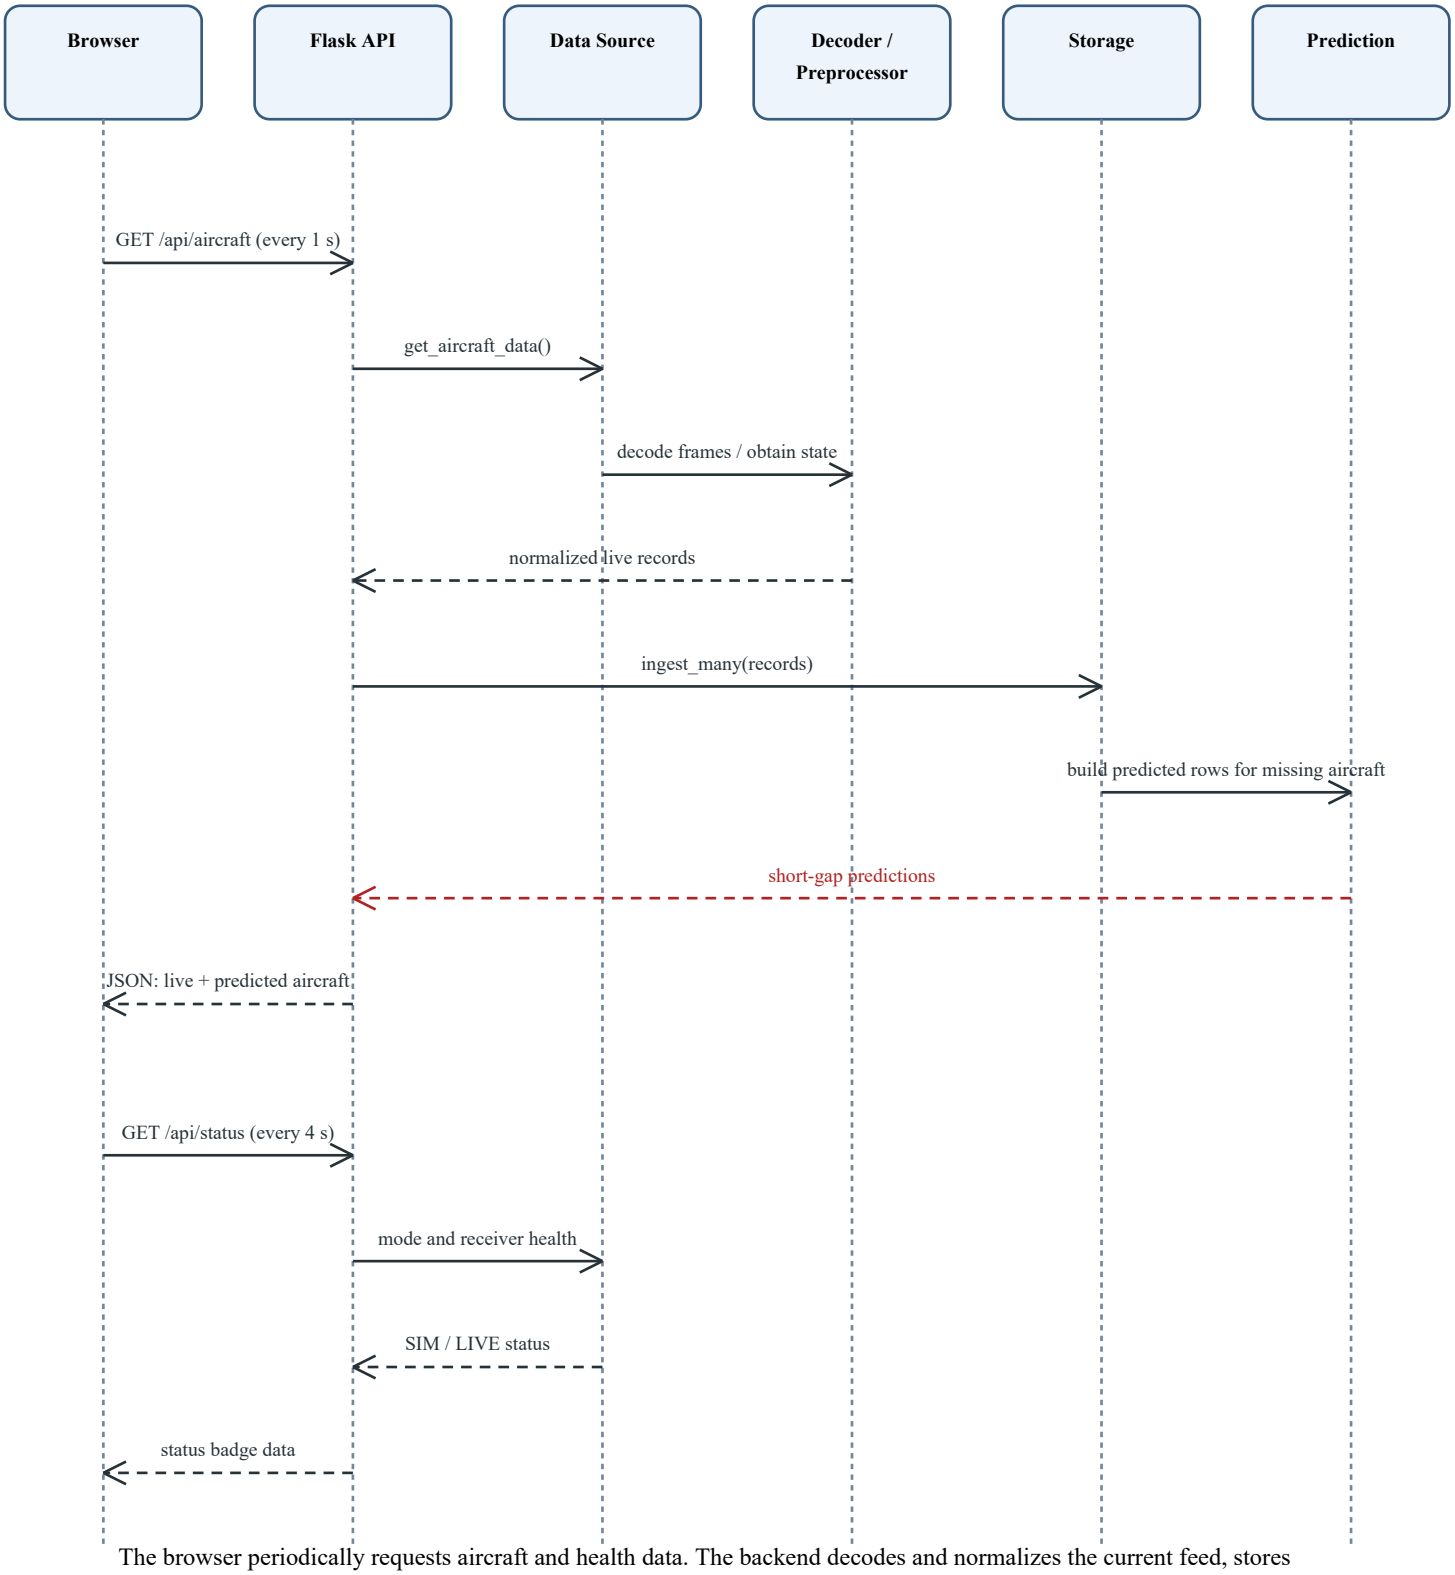

Figure 8: Sequence Diagram

The browser periodically requests aircraft and health data. The backend decodes and normalizes the current feed, stores meaningful samples, and adds prediction rows only for aircraft that have temporarily disappeared. The response is then rendered as map markers, solid live tracks and dotted predicted paths.

Figure 8: Sequence Diagram